THEATRICAL.

"The Rosary" at Paris Grand.

Every woman thinks she knows how to keep alive the love of her husband. Wonder if the girls in this city know that art? Sometimes it is said they don't. At any rate they will know after they have witnessed a performance of "The Rosary," that is coming to the Paris Grand next Monday, Feb. 9.

In "The Rosary," there are three distinct love stories. The principal love affair is that of Bruce and Vera Wilton. This husband and wife love each other with their whole hearts. She is a devout woman, but he is a born atheist. Being a man of large business interests, Mr. Wilton neglects his home, and Vera resorts to the green-eyed monster to bring her husband back to her. She begins a flirtation with a man named Kenward Wright. Circumstances bring him into the Wilton home, where he falls in love with Vera's sister, Alice. One night when he and Alice had arranged for a secret elopement, Vera, entering the room as the couple are leaving through an open window is discovered by her husband. The result is two broken hearts; therefore jealousy is an evil, and not an advisable way of keeping a man interested.

The second love story is between Kathleen O'Connor and Charley Harrow. Kathleen is a little Irish girl who believes that the man she will marry must know the Irish history thoroughly. Charley knows nothing of Irish history, so Kathleen attempts to teach him. To keep Charley interested Kathleen uses the simplest of language, dress and actions. Charley is attracted to her by her sweet simplicity, so it is shown that the simplest truth attracts the man of the world and keeps him interested.

In the love story between Lesura and Skeeters, the audience finds that opposition to a man's vanity makes him only the more interested in the pursuit if the one thing upon which he prides himself greater than all else. During the scenes Skeeters is very proud of his ability to tell stories, but it isn't until after an original system is employed that Skeeters succeeds in getting Lesura to laugh.

All of this love is in "The Rosary," and with a competent cast presenting it, the play is worth attending.

HOW IS YOUR BOILER?

It has been stated that a man's stomach is his boiler, his body is his engine, and his mouth is his fire-box.
